Everyone at Denison is invited to attend the events listed on the Women's Programs calendar for Fall 1988 - students, faculty, staff, women and men.

If you are teaching a course you may want to incorporate events on the calendar into your class schedule - either as required events, extra credit opportunities, or as optional activities. All of the events would be appropriate for inclusion in Women's Studies courses as well as any course with a component focusing on gender roles. In addition, the following suggestions illustrate (incompletely) ways in which the various events could be used in other courses:

Bell Hooks: Black Studies; the politics or economics of oppressed groups

Millingtons: Music; popular culture

Barbara Sloat: Faculty in the sciences may wish to encourage female advisees majoring in one of the sciences to attend this event.

Andrea Parrot: Sexuality

Women's Film Festival: Theatre and Cinema

Copies of the calendar can be made available to all of your students at your request. Call ext. 366 or 696 and ask for the number of copies you need.
