

Prologue: A First-Year Writing Journal

---

Volume 13

Article 1

---

Letter from the Prologue Editors in Chief

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.denison.edu/prologue>

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons

---

Recommended Citation

() "Letter from the Prologue Editors in Chief," Prologue: A First-Year Writing Journal: Vol. 13, Article 1.
Available at: <https://digitalcommons.denison.edu/prologue/vol13/iss1/1>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Writing Center at Denison Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Prologue: A First-Year Writing Journal by an authorized editor of Denison Digital Commons.

Letter from the Prologue Editors in Chief

We are delighted to present the 2022 edition of Prologue, Denison's First Year Writing Journal. Thank you to everyone who submitted, and congratulations to all the writers who have been featured. This year's edition of Prologue contains some of the best writing from the class of 2025. As the editors of Prologue, we work through a stack of excellent pieces of student writing sent in as submissions. We then have the difficult task of selecting which essays we will publish. Typically, this means accepting essays that excel in both skill and original thought. This year was no exception.

Thank you to all the editors for the hard work they put into reading and engaging with the papers—without them, this would not have been possible.

We loved reading these pieces, and we hope you will too.

Claire Woodard and Sam Fujikawa, Editors in Chief