Articulâte
A Journal of Literary and Cultural Criticism

* Articulâte is published under the auspices of the Denison University English Department
Editorial Policy:

Articulâte is published in the spring semester of each academic year and features student essays of literary and cultural criticism. Articulâte will consider papers written by Denison undergraduates in any area of literary and cultural criticism and from any department or discipline.

Faculty members are encouraged to recommend particularly strong essays from their classes for publication in Articulâte. As a special feature, Articulâte publishes each year's winner of the Robert T. Wilson Award for Scholarly Writing.

Call for Papers:

Submissions will be accepted throughout the academic year and should combine research with original insight. Submissions should not exceed fifteen typed, double-spaced pages, although essays of greater length, which are of exceptionally high quality will be considered for publication. Please use MLA documentation.

Initial submissions should be in hard copy. Those writers selected for publication will be asked to submit an electronic manuscript of their work. Please submit your essay with cover sheet including your name and Slayter box. The journal accepts submissions at any time during the academic year.
