This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the English at Denison Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Articulāte by an authorized editor of Denison Digital Commons.
Editorial Policy:

Articulâte is published in the spring semester of each academic year and features student essays of literary and cultural criticism. Articulâte will consider papers written by Denison undergraduates in any area of literary and cultural criticism and from any department or discipline.

Faculty members are encouraged to recommend particularly strong essays from their classes for publication in Articulâte. As a special feature, Articulâte publishes each year's winner of the Robert T. Wilson Award for Scholarly Writing.

Call for Papers:

Submissions will be accepted throughout the academic year and should combine research with original insight. Submissions should not exceed fifteen typed, double-spaced pages, although essays of greater length, which are of exceptionally high quality will be considered for publication. Please use MLA documentation.

Submissions for the 2010-2011 academic year may be submitted electronically to kraneke_a@denison.edu or articulate@denison.edu. Please submit your essay with cover sheet including your name and Slayter box. The journal accepts submissions at any time during the academic year.

Essays may also be submitted to:
