

---

Editor-in-Chief

Melissa Cherry

Assistant Editor

Moriah Ellenbogen

Editorial Board

Lydia Strohmeyer

Dillon Wilson

Erin Stevens

Antrim Ross

Web Editor

Kristof Oltvai

Faculty Advisor

Sergio Gallegos

Episteme is published annually by a staff of undergraduate students at Denison University.

Please send all inquiries and submissions to:

episteme@denison.edu

---

Statement of Purpose

---

Episteme aims to recognize and encourage excellence in undergraduate philosophy. The journal offers students their first opportunity to publish philosophy, and it boasts examples of some of the best work currently being done in undergraduate philosophy programs around the world. It is our hope that Episteme will help stimulate philosophic dialogue and inquiry among students and faculty at colleges and universities.

The Editors consider papers written by undergraduate students in any area of philosophy. Throughout our history, we have published papers on a wide array of thinkers and topics, ranging from ancient to contemporary and including analytic, continental, and eastern. All submissions undergo a process of blind review and are evaluated according to the following criteria: quality of research, depth of philosophic inquiry, creativity, original insight, and clarity. Final selections are made by vote of the Editors and the editorial board.

Please see the Call for Papers at the back of the journal for information on submitting to our next volume.

EPISTEME

---

---

An International Journal of Undergraduate Philosophy

---

---

Volume XXIV

May 2013

CONTENTS

---

|  |    |
|--|----|
| Statement of Purpose and Editorial Staff   | 2  |
| Table of Contents  | 3  |
| Losing and Regaining the Self through Language:Individuation in Nietzsche's Creative Use of Metaphor   | 6  |
| Maximilian Chaoulideer, University of Chicago   |    |
| Cognition and Sensation: A Reconstruction of Herder'sQuasi-Empiricism  | 19 |
| Philip Yaure, University of Chicago   |    |
| Heidegger's World and Dasein's Death: The Significance ofBeing-in-a-world in Relation to Death   | 43 |
| Sandor Mark, Boston University  |    |
| Charles Taylor's Langue/Parole and Alasdair MacIntyre's"Networks of Giving and Receiving" as a Foundation for a Pos-itive Anti-Atomist Political Theory | 49 |
| Robert Moore, Denison University  |    |

---

The Editors express sincere appreciation to the Provost's Office, Kate Tull, and faculty advisor Sergio Gallegos for their assistance in making the publication of this journal possible.

We extend special gratitude to the other Philosophy Department Faculty: Barbara Fultner, Tony Lisska, Jonathan Maskit, John McHugh, Mark Moller, and Steven Vogel for their support.