

---

Editor

Christina Hambleton

Web-Editor

Peter Heft

Editorial Board

Elizabeth VanNess

Erin Stevens

Antrim Ross

Kelsey Kober

Faculty Advisor

Sam Cowling

Episteme is published annually by a staff of undergraduate students at Denison University.

Please send all inquiries and submissions to:

episteme@denison.edu

---

Statement of Purpose

---

Episteme aims to recognize and encourage excellence in undergraduate philosophy. The journal offers students their first opportunity to publish philosophy, and boasts examples of some of the best work currently being done in undergraduate philosophy programs around the world. It is our hope that Episteme will help stimulate philosophical dialogue and inquiry among students and faculty at colleges and universities.

The Editors consider papers written by undergraduate students in any area of philosophy. Throughout our history, we have published papers on a wide array of thinkers and topics, ranging from ancient to contemporary and including analytic, continental, and eastern. All submissions undergo a process of blind review and are evaluated according to the following criteria: quality of research, depth of philosophical inquiry, creativity, original insight, and clarity. Final selections are made by vote of the Editors and the editorial board.

Please see the Call for Papers at the back of the journal for information on submitting to our next volume.

EPISTEME

---

---

An International Journal of Undergraduate Philosophy

---

---

Volume XXVII

May 2016

CONTENTS

---

Statement of Purpose and Editorial Staff	2
Table of Contents	3
Uncovering Gender in Hegel's 'Ethical Order' in The Phenomenology of Spirit	6
Heather Stewart, University of Louisville
Naturalism, Specialism, and the Completeness of Physics	25
Elek Lane, Chicago University
Why I am a Free Will Skeptic: The Free Will Advocate's Burden and Pride	41
Cameron Davis, Johns Hopkins University
A Defense of Denotative Theory from Kripke's Criticism	57
Tomoya Imaizumi, Kyoto University
Call For Papers, Vol. XXVIII (2017)	64

---

The Editors would like to express their sincere appreciation for the Provost's Office, Kate Tull, and faculty advisor Sam Cowling for their assistance in making the publication of this journal possible.

We extend special gratitude to the other Philosophy Department Faculty: Christa Johnson, Tony Lisska, John Ramsey, John McHugh, Mark Moller, and Steven Vogel for their support.