This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the English at Denison Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Exile by an authorized editor of Denison Digital Commons.

You of the finer sense,
Broken against false knowledge,
You who can know at first hand,
Hated, shut in, mistrusted:

Take thought:
I have weathered the storm,
I have beaten out my exile.

Editor's Note

While I cringe at the use of sports terminology in literary writing, this was something of a rebuilding year for Exile. It was only through the dedication and assistance of certain Denison staff and students that we were able to revive a lagging program. To Dr. Baker and Anneliese Davis I give my deepest thanks; without your logistical assistance, this publication certainly would not have gone to print. To all the coeditors (Katie, Anne, Jayme, Jess, Halle, Jenny, Carlin, Leah, Laura, Mad, Jacs, and Lauren), my warm thanks for your efforts and my sympathies for having had to deal with me. To our graduating editors, our best wishes on your lives in the "real" world off the hill.
