Let your “T-Zone” tell you why!

- All over America, the story’s the same! With smoker after smoker who has tried and compared different brands of cigarettes, CAMELS are the “Choice of Experience”!

Try CAMELS in your “T-Zone” — that’s T for Taste and T for Thrust — and you’ll see why! Compare CAMELS for rich, full flavor; for mild, cool-smoking — and you’ll agree with the millions of smokers who say CAMELS suit them to a “T”!

Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

According to a Nationwide survey:

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE

When 113,097 doctors from coast to coast were asked by three independent research organizations to name the cigarette they smoked, more doctors named CAMELS than any other brand!
A Renaissance! Today American women are rising to accept a vital challenge, to meet an urgent need. A quarter of a century ago women of this country were wearing the most beautiful and graceful attire the world had ever seen. European opinion of us was one of loose morals and unattractive dress. Europeans and a few among us here have charged American women with being shallow and trivial. In 1947, only a few years ago, we slowed the pace long enough to take a critical look at what we were doing.

One factor in this renaissance, which few realize as such, is the so-called NEW LOOK in women’s fashions. Longer skirts, concealed arms, necks, shoulders, middles and backs involving softer, more feminine lines are leaving the Sweater Girl and half-way-up-to-nothing skirt as dated as Ford’s first car. For nearly fifty years, it is true, the philosophy seemed to be the exposure of as much epidermis as possible. And if you will be honest you will admit that it created nothing but an air of flagrant unattractiveness and unstrained vulgarity. Now American women are out to prove that they’re more than just A Shape. We have keen minds and varied interests. We will prove to the world and to the American male population that there is a method of far deeper value to gain male approval than by exposing, to all the elements, the greater portion of the female body.

Our grandmothers knew the charm that lay in a long skirt; what male today experiences the high spots of their sex appeal when he sees what our grandmothers knew? Look is not in itself the important thing. It is one of many factors. Does the look have inherent good taste and a large store of common sense? The time has come when the social standard of beauty is being judged in terms of inherent good taste and a wide store of common sense.

The United States, in a boom age that seemed infinite, was taking great strides forward in the intellectual and artistic advancement of this nation. The time has come when the social standard of beauty is being judged in terms of inherent good taste and a wide store of common sense.

What has happened to the waistline? It, too has changed. Gone is the freedom of movement that was once enjoyed. In other instances, the neck is completely covered and wrapped in some sort of covering the Revolutionary period and again during the Civil War, and again during the depression period. Our dead historian would certainly come to believe, are many slips and petticoats producing a fullness to the skirt and providing more padding for the hips. Revolutionary and Civil War periods brought these up-to-date in style.

But we know that American women are basically a better educated, well-rounded society of women than can be found elsewhere in the world. We do have inherent good taste and a large store of common sense. The time has come to prove it to the world.

So 1948 is being met by a pertinent evolving of itself. The next decade will see women taking great strides forward in the intellectual and artistic advancement of this nation. The time has come when the social standard of beauty is being judged in terms of inherent good taste and a wide store of common sense. The time has come when the social standard of beauty is being judged in terms of inherent good taste and a wide store of common sense.

We came into the fast, racy Roaring ’20’s and only in their native country!”

Some few years ago, a famous historian made this statement, “By studying the trend of women’s styles, I can predict with a great degree of accuracy the trends in the economy and history of the United States.” Nothing is new in the world. As one example, women’s skirts just before or during a depression have always been lowered or lengthened. Another example, an immoral age has always been introduced with the lowering of the neckline. I am sorry to say that this historian is now dead. I imagine the poor man trying to find current trends by studying the present “New Look” in women’s fashions. His clairvoyance would be most disheartening to us all. Let us see with what he would have to contend.

Starting at the lower extremities and working up, we first notice milady’s shoes. If the famous picture of Betsy Ross sewing the flag for George Washington is observed, it can be seen that she is wearing low-heeled shoes with ribbon straps encircling the ankle. And those were Revolution days. Perhaps the present trend in footwear means that a revolution is near at hand. It has been said by many eminent politicians that Henry Wallace is a revolutionary at heart.

Now let us observe the stockings of the present-day woman of fashion. Purple, green, blue, black, any color of the rainbow. The ladies of George Washington’s day were wearing stockings like these. Our dead historian would certainly come to the conclusion that a revolution and an overthrow of the government is in the offing.

Advancing up the line, we see that the hemline has fallen considerably since the war years. Perhaps in the return of a large percentage of the male population, our woman of fashion thinks (what with it being leap year) that the competition in finding a man is no longer to be reckoned with. Or was our historian right when he predicted a depression with the lowering of the hemline? It sounds logical. Depressions and revolts again.

Now we come to the neckline. Our historian made the prediction that the off-the-shoulder fashion was the vogue during the depression period and again during the Civil War. The Victorian and Gibson girl effect with high neckline and kerchief reminds us of the Fanci of 1880 and the Depression of 1900. Beneath the dress, so the designer would lead us to believe, are many slips and petticoats producing a fullness to the skirt and providing more padding for the hips. Revolutionary and Civil War periods brought these up-to-date in style.

If John Frederics and Lily Dache are correct in believing, many slips and petticoats producing a fullness to the skirt and providing more padding for the hips. Revolutionary and Civil War periods brought these up-to-date in style.

(Continued on page 13)
The Most Unforgettable Professor -- Students I've Met

by Jay Shaw

It's been said that you can tell how well known a Denisonian is by the number of nicknames he has. If that's so, Dr. William T. "Billy", "Doc", "General", Hazzoner, Utter is well known. And, in this case certainly, it's an indication of almost unrivaled popularity among Denisonians — past and present. It may perhaps startle you to hear kind words about a general from a private, but as a locally private of some years standing in the Beta Militia, I have been privileged to watch Militia General Utter annually perform his duties of office in such a democratic understanding way as to truly endear himself to his troops. His pleasant, yet dignified, way of addressing his men and his extremely generous and liberal annual awards and decorations for outstanding service single him out as unusual among brass. His vast popularity among Denisonians — past and present.

"Huzz" Galloway had an unusual perspective: she laughed when I wasn't trying to be funny. Among the several dozen college jokers I am least apt to forget Charles Arnold Jr. of Parkersburg, and I have my reasons. Charles was nicknamed "Choo-choo" because of his interest in railroads, but I called him Charlie. He had, and has, a wonderfully keen mind, capable of pursuing an interesting project with all the zeal of a rat terrier. In 1936, when the Republicans were looking for a candidate to unseat "That Man," we held a mock candidate proposal with all the zeal of a rat terrier.

She had informed the enemy, so she was a traitor. "His" duty was to shoot a traitor and he shot her. * * *

Months and years passed. The guerrillas of the X company stopped fighting for a while to reorganize. Then they struck again harder than ever . . . like a volcano that sleeps a while and then explodes again . . .

One guerrilla attack, no matter how successful, can not do much harm. But an attack every hour around the clock, all around the calendar, all over the country was like thousands of thorns in the sides of the German tiger.

"He" and his company were one of the biggest thorns. His name was on everybody's lips and made the lips of the slaves smile and the lips of the conqueror tremble.

Every day a new bridge, a new train, a new ship would be blown into a thousand pieces. The supply of General Rommel in Africa through Greece stopped. The air was the only safe means of communication. The Guerilla court had to use time, you could feel this weight on your soul like a piece of lead.

You could even feel it in the Grotto where that sultry night the guerrilla court took place. A few days ago many guerrillas had lost their lives because of a traitor. But now the traitor was in guerilla hands. She was a girl only nineteen years old. But girls have nails and hair and minds. These she had left in the Gestapo cell together with the information that had killed so many rugged guerrillas. Everybody knew that. And if he didn't he could see it. Many of them had lost beloved friends and relatives because of her. But they had forgot this. They had forgotten "an eye for an eye . . . a tooth for a tooth." You could see their wild bearded faces soften, their look become less dark. Their hearts were full of pity for the poor, tortured creature who lay before them. They had forgotten the guerilla lass. Then "he" spoke.

No matter what, she should bite her tongue with her teeth— she should do anything . . . but she should not speak.

She should not forget the thousands of women whose silence was never broken by the tortures of the Persians, the Rumanians, the Crusaders, the Turks, the Bulgarians, the Italians the Germans.

(Continued on page 14)
What's the matter, Denison? Where's our sense of pride? Where's our loyalty to our school?

The pictures on these pages are only a fragment of our exhibition of betrayal, our betrayal of self, home, and college. For years, the students of Denison University have observed traditions. Many of these traditions are old, older than we. What right have we, now, to flagrantly violate them?

All of us, day after day, continually observe many of our fellow students smoking on the quadrangle, smoking on the steps of the library, smoking directly beneath NO SMOKING signs, and smoking on the chapel walk. Even worse, many of us, who call ourselves "loyal Denisonians," commit these breaches of loyalty along with the large numbers, who just don't care.

The situation has really become acute during the past year. Specifically, there is definitely something radically wrong, when a member of the "D" Association casually lit a cigarette inside the chapel, halfway down the left hand aisle, after an evening concert. This was probably the grossest disregard for tradition, that the writer has ever witnessed.

But smoking is not the only misdemeanor of which we are guilty. How many times have we been informed that the fellows do not sit with the girls in chapel on Monday morning? And how many times have we done this ourselves? Even more specific, how much "necking" have we seen going on in the last ten rows of Swasey Chapel, in the center section? Is that any way to show respect for our chapel? Is that any way to show respect for ourselves?

None of us can claim ignorance of these traditions. We've all been told time and time again. And still, we violate them. Why?

There must be an answer to all this. There must be a reason for our behavior. Is it because we consider ourselves too old to cooperate? A person is never too old to mix in with his friends, and to abide by general social customs and ideals. Is it because many of us are tired of rules and regulations and we want to be as free as possible? Or is it because we just desire to be different? Perhaps we do not realize that there is a difference between distinction and notoriety. If that is the case, we are all going to find out, sooner or later, that we will be on the outside looking in. We will be unable to climb the wall of social respectability. That certainly cannot be what we want.

Are we just trying to be smart? Are we simply trying to demonstrate our "collegiate intelligence" in this manner? If that is it, we are positively barking up the wrong tree. We are showing not our intelligence, but we are giving a fine demonstration of our childishness. Has the time spent in the armed forces made us feel that we are above the niceties of college life? If anything, we should have been made to realize that cooperation and the ability to get along with one's fellowman is the first law of a peaceful community.

If we want to probe more deeply into the matter, are we, by any chance, demonstrating the notion that we did not have the proper upbringing at home? Actually, by committing these violations, we are throwing a definite and distinct reflection upon our parents. We are showing our friends that our folks did not instill us with respect for common decency or social custom. If this thought does not bother us, there is very little hope left.

Now, how about the enforcement of these traditions? It should be the duty of every student, first, to govern his own actions; and, second, it should be our responsibility to check our friends. It is a community project, and it is up to us, as members of the community, to do our share of the correction.

The "D" Association's duty is to enforce Denison traditions. While they have made an attempt at the revival of a few of them, they have fallen far short of their goal in their demonstrated ability to cope with the situation. It is on this group of men that we can place part of the blame.

But, it will take more than just one organization to carry out this program of correction. It will take a concerted effort on the part of every individual on the Denison campus. Let's see the "stuff" of which we're made. Let's show our respect for social custom. Let's indicate to our college community, that our parents have failed in their job. Let's see a change. Let's see it now.

Dave Temple stumped the librarian the other day by asking for a book written by the eminent French author, Risoque.

Overheard at Druids' Hall:
"Do you drink?"
"No."
"Then hold this while I tie my shoelace."

There once was a spinsterish prude,
Who dreaded to bathe in the nude.
A bath in the dark
Still made her feel stark.
So, she had her whole body tattooed.

The major menaces on the highway are drunken driving, uncontrolled thumbing, and indiscriminate spooning. To put it briefly, hic, hike, and hug.
HOW THEY DO IT
by TERRY THURN

SOPHOMORE DATE

MARCH, 1948

AT DENISON
and SAM ROBINSON

JUNIOR DATE

SENIOR DATE
NEW COURSES

by Bob Findiesen

NOTICE: Despite the prediction of an unusually heavy enrollment next term the following courses have been listed as being available for selection as electives.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Department of Economics:

- Shrewd Tactics ................................ 101a
- Principles of Emsbeezlement .......... 110a
- Elementary Rent-Gouging ............... 115a
- History of the Pawnshop ............... 207a
- Residents of Troy ........................ 100a
- Taft Evictions of the Poor ............. 314a
- Maintenance of the Monopoly .......... 165b
- Principles of the Black Market ...... 215b
- Uses of the Injunction ................. 121a
- Strike-Breaking ........................... 121b

Department of Accounting:

- General Figure Juggling ............... 213a
- Problems in Money Lending ............. 243b
- Principles of Tax Evasion .............. 204a
- Advanced Baseball Statistics .......... 364a

SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Department of Anthropology:

- Sex, Life of the Primitive Family ...... 222a
- Ancient Culture of Licking County ..... 224b

Department of Biology:

- Experimental Bathtub Distilling ....... 224b

Department of Chemistry:

- Fundamentals of Home Brewing ........ 224a

Department of Geography:

- Study of Contours ....................... 126b

Department of English:

- The Works of Zane Gray ................. 321a
- Everyday Slang and Re-bop ............. 312a
- Art of Instantiating ..................... 342b

Department of Economics:

- The Works of Zane Gray ................. 321a
- Everyday Slang and Re-bop ............. 312a
- Art of Instantiating ..................... 342b

Department of Fine Arts:

- Whittling ................................ 906a
- Counterfeiting ............................ 404a
- Advanced Forgery ....................... 423b

Department of Government:

- Jurisprudence ............................ 101a
- Nepotism ................................ 101b
- Comparative Communism ............... 215b
- Juries ..................................... 165b
- Advanced Ballot-Box Stuffing .......... 344a
- Elements of Election Promises ......... 368a

Department of History:

- History of the French Postcard ....... 321a
- Afghanistan Since 1926 ................. 213b
- Modern Ireland and its Future ......... 354b
- Granville between the Wars ............ 256a

Department of Journalism:

- Introduction to the Comic Strip ....... 324a
- Methods of Yellow Journalism .......... 112b
- Seminar in Fraudulent Advertising .... 324a

Department of Languages:

- Chinese Dialects ....................... 323b

Department of Mathematics:

- Mathematics on the Racing Run ......... 124b
- Operation of the Tape Measure .......... 126b

Department of Psychology:

- Psychology of the Unborn Child ....... 324b

School of Music:

- Department of Instruments ............. 362a
- Advanced Bazzooka ....................... 386b

(Continued on page 14)

WALTER J. LIVINGTON—The only head track coach that Denison ever had.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last in a series of articles by the sports editor of the CAMPUS magazine dealing with the history of sports at Denison. No baseball article will be written due to lack of complete records of past Denison nine.)

Imagine yourself to be in Granville back around the turn of the century. It is a bright spring day, and there seems to be a general movement of people toward the southern part of town. The ladies and men are in their most colorful regalia and it is a very colorful procession of carriages and pedestrians that makes its way down a wide green expanse just outside of the city limits.

For this is Denison's field day. It is the day on which students of the college, townspeople, and Du' athletes return to their homes, and the big day is over.

Let's move ahead now to 1922. At Oberlin, where the two track powers of the state (Denison and Oberlin) of that year are competing in a dual meet, the outcome of which is to be decided by this last event about to be run off — the mile relay. Denison's big gun today has been Garby Clark who has already won the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes. In winning this 440, Clark upset Oberlin's crack quarter-miler who, before this meet, had been regarded as the best in the state in his race. Both this man and Clark are anchor men on their respective relay teams and they now wait tensely as the third man on each enters, the baton being passed. Meanwhile the Oberlin threeclad is building up a substantial lead, and by the time the baton is passed for the last time, the Oberlin man is 30 yards ahead of Clark. It seems impossible but Clark closes that distance and when the two hit the last leg they are neck and neck. Clark pulls ahead and wins by three or four.

But, let's go on. Waldo Heinrichs had a brother, Leonard, who was here in the middle 1920's. Leonard Heinrichs also ran the hurdles and was also outstanding, although he ran with his left arm always folded across his chest since his shoulder would pop out whenever his arm was lifted higher than the level of his shoulder. Who can say what Heinrichs might have been had he not had this trick muscle? As it is, he still holds the Deeds Field record for the 170-yard high hurdles.

Mike Gregory was an outstanding weight man, and his shot put of 44 feet was a Denison record for many years.

In 1929-30-31 Denison was fortunate to have an extremely strong dual meet, the outcome of which is to be decided by three more dual meets than it has won. How many other schools in the state have continued in this capacity uninterrupted since that time? There are several schools in Ohio (Wittenberg, Capital, Kenyon, and Otterbein are four examples) that have never defeated a Denison track team.

For this is Denison's field day. It is the day on which students of the college, townspeople, and Du' athletes return to their homes, and the big day is over.
INCOME

Subsistence Check
Rented car for loose change in Tom's pocket.
Weekly Penny Ante Game x 4.
G.I. Bill Texts sold after purchase to used-bookstore.
Deposit on abandoned beer bottles.
Washed laundry for Joe.
Washed dishes at Grille.
Subject in Psychology experiment.
Chaperoning dance at 60c.
Sale of crib notes in Elem. Econ.
Resale of Denisonian at Ic.
Deposit on abandoned beer bottles.
Baby-sitting.
Chaperoning dance at 60c.
Weekly Penny Ante Game x 4.
GI Bill Texts sold after purchase to used-bookstore.
Rented car for loose change in Tom's pocket.

EXPENDITURES

Rent x 4.
Meals x 30.
Nightly beer at 20c.
Saturday night beer for G.F.
Saturday night beer for G.F.'s visiting sister.
Saturday night beer for Bill who was broke.
Saturday night coke for me.
Roy Roger's movie.
Stamps for letters home.
Cigarette x 10.
Pool game.
Cheesburger at Corner.
Difference in cost of fountain pen under G.I. Bill at bookstore.
Used deck of cards.
Telegram home for more money.
Shoe repair after dance.
Green bowtie.

Total Income $79.54
Total Expenditures $79.51
Savings $0.03

NOTE: The budget cited here was found in the Student Union where it had apparently been dropped by a vet.

BUDGET BLUES

"Girls! He finally gave me his pin!"

"I thought I was doing all right with the woman. We'd been sitting out on the porch for about half an hour, and no one said a word, when she says, "Suppose you had money. What would you do?" I thought for awhile, and with great finality I answered, 'I'd travel.' I felt her hand slip into mine, but when I turned, she was gone, and in my hand was a nickel."

NOTE: The budget cited here was found in the Student Union where it had apparently been dropped by a vet.

THE CANDY WITH THE HOLE

CONTEST RULES:

1. Write down the best joke that you heard on the campus this week.
2. Submit it to the editor of this magazine, together with your name and address on campus. (Place entry in the Beta mail-box in Doane.)
3. You will compete only with other DU wits, some sharp and some dim.
4. The winner's name will be published next issue.

FREE! A box of LIFE SAVERS

for the best wisecrack!

CONTEST RULES:

1. Write down the best joke you've heard.
2. Submit it to the editor of this magazine, together with your name and address on campus. (Place entry in the Beta mail-box in Doane.)
3. You will compete only with other DU wits, some sharp and some dim.
4. The winner's name will be published next issue.

INCOME

Subsistence Check $65.00
Rented car for loose change in Tom's pocket. $91
Weekly Penny Ante Game x 4. $84
G.I. Bill Texts sold after purchase to used-bookstore. $6.78
Deposit on abandoned beer bottles. $12
Washed dishes at Grille. $1.00
Resale of Denisonian at Ic. $26
Washed laundry for Joe. $43
Chaperoning dance at 60c. $1.80
Subject in Psychology experiment. $2.00

NOTE: The budget cited here was found in the Student Union where it had apparently been dropped by a vet.

EXPENDITURES

Rent x 4. $20.00
Meals x 30. $45.00
Nightly beer at 20c. $6.00
Saturday night beer for G.F. $0.65
Saturday night beer for G.F.'s visiting sister. $0.20
Saturday night beer for Bill who was broke. $0.85
Saturday night coke for me. $1.00
Roy Roger's movie. $5.00
Stamps for letters home. $0.06
Cigarette x 10. $2.00
Pool game. $20.00
Cheesburger at Corner. $0.20
Difference in cost of fountain pen under G.I. Bill at bookstore. $1.50
Used deck of cards. $1.00
Telegram home for more money. $0.36
Shoe repair after dance. $1.00
Green bowtie. $0.59

Total Income $79.54
Total Expenditures $79.51
Savings $0.03

THE SHORT OF IT

(Continued from page 2)

THE LONG OF IT

(Continued from page 2)
UNFORGETTABLE PROFESSOR

This Latin background serves Doc well, too, as he yearly is able to contribute a few classic phrases to such occasions as the reading of the Senior Class Will or the crowning of the Winter Carnival Queen. Hizzoner, you know, was once mayor of our village. I know one Republican, at least, that will tell you that Mayor Utter was probably the best Democratic Mayor in our country's history. No question about it, the "Utter Era" will long be remembered pleasantly in the village of Granville and here on the hill. Most of us have gotten to know "Doc" or "Billy" in class. I think all will agree that his lectures are a vital part of Denisoniana — rare and great for their sharp but subtle humor.

To many of us the name "Doc" Utter stands for all the good things we'll remember about Denison. Lots of fun, very friendly, with an intangible something that makes you want to come back often. General Utter, we salute you — and that's no bull, either!

---

CAMPUS WHEEL

by JANE ROUDEBUSH

Girls are like cigarettes, because:
They come in packs;
They're hard to light;
They go out unexpectedly;
They cling to your lips;
They leave a bitter taste in your mouth;
BUT they satisfy.

A coed is something that puts enjoyment into college and takes education out.

If Little Red Riding Hood lived today,
The Modern Girl would scorn her.
She only had to meet one wolf,
Not one on every corner.
QUITE A RECORD

(Continued from page 10)

world's record. Livy once clocked him in practice at 9.4 for the century run. This man's running brought national fame to Denison as he went to the Penn Relays and the National Collegiate Meet at Los Angeles three years in a row. Quite a record!

Other outstanding Denison track men around this time were: Glen Weidemann, a wonderful hurdl er and sprinter; Jim Humphrey, one of the best half milers in DU history; Herbert Winsor, a pole vaulter of much reputation; and Alex Stewart, another outstanding discus man. Ned Bacon was here in 1938-39-34, and he could almost be compared with Hutson in the national fame that he brought to Denison by his running. He was a great hurdl er, going to the NCAA meet in Los Angeles in his senior year.

Of more recent vintage are DU's three outstanding weight men of 1939-40-41, each of these men, Al Barran putting the shot, Rod Harrison throwing the discus, and Urban Hubina throwing the javelin, set a Deeds Field record in that year that still stands. In 1944, R. F. Anderson was running the quarter mile for Denison, and he is considered to be second only to Clark in DU track history in that race. In 1945, Harold W. Moore broke the aforementioned Robert Miller's 39-year old rec-cord in the two-mile run. Moore also won the two-mile in both the Ohio Conference and the S t a t e
meets. And last year, Tom Davis again bested Miller's time, although he was a few seconds be-other day and said to her friend, "The prof kissed me after class."

But even from what has been given, one ly enough has been said about the record of Den-mo.

Davis also won the Ohio Conference two-mile run. Moore also won the two-mile in both the Ohio Conference and the State
meets. And last year, Tom Davis again bested
Miller's record. Davis also won the Ohio Conf erence two-mile in 1947.

There have been many stars that have to be left out because of space limitations, and not enough is said about the record of Denition. But even from what has been given, one can see what an outstanding history DU track team has had and the high standards the future teams are going to have to live up to.

"Darling, I've lost all my money. I haven't a cent in the world."

"That won't make any difference to our love. I'll love you just as much, even if I never see you again."

"That's the guy I'm looking for," muttered the hen, as the farmer crossed the yard.

"My fiance has been telling everyone, that he's going to marry the most beautiful girl in the world."

"That's too bad, all the time you went with him."

Lassie: I wonder if I could make you melt in my arms?

Greene: No. I'm not that soft, and you're not that hot.

One of the more classi
classy lasses around campus came running out of the women's psychology that day and said to her friend, "The prof kissed
me after class."

"How can I do such a thing?"

"Very, very nicely."

FOR MAJORS ONLY

Muscle Flexing
Whistle Blowing
Principles of Purchasing Football Players
The Flying Tackle
Lockeroom Etiquette
Advanced Perspiration

For Majors only:

CAMPUS

SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Muscle Flexing
Whistle Blowing
Principles of Purchasing Football Players
The Flying Tackle
Lockeroom Etiquette
Advanced Perspiration

NEW COURSES

(Continued from page 11)

Department of Musical Background:
Native Music of the Congo...
Life and Works of Spike Jones...
Principles of the Commercial Jingle

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Department of Advancement:
Calculus for the Primary Grades
Hog Raising
Comparative Bird Calls...

Department of Musical Background:
Native Music of the Congo...
Life and Works of Spike Jones...
Principles of the Commercial Jingle

SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

FOR MAJORS ONLY

Muscle Flexing
Whistle Blowing
Principles of Purchasing Football Players
The Flying Tackle
Lockeroom Etiquette
Advanced Perspiration

For Majors only:

EXTRA ATTRACTIVE

At the end of the year, we're going to review all the stuff we've bought and sold items. This is the best of all is going to get an extra

$100.00

EXTRA ADDED

Attarction

At the end of the year, we're going to review all the stuff we've bought and sold items. This is the best of all is going to get an extra

$100.00
All these stars appear in David O. Selznick's production "The Paradine Case" directed by Alfred Hitchcock.

With the stars it's Chesterfield because always milder, better tasting, cooler smoking. The right combination... world's best tobaccos.

Always buy Chesterfield.